The total amount is $31,135.00
— one less problem I have to deal with.

Please make this a priority tomorrow because I don't want to deal with the procedures as seen in NYSCEF matter 153974/2020 again.

Thank you for understanding, it's not $850,000,000.00 or the $912,000.00 paid to the directors for their contributions together with the Zucker family, this is what is legally owed to me in unlawful rent not going to ask the clerk, judge, or anyone else.

The total amount is $31,135.00

- my wire instructions are below, call the courts or whoever deals with that, and handle it, I already tried that, didn't work out. The court would not extend the "emergency restraints" that were without afforded to the ZUCKERS and their corporations, so if this is your state, and city — represent it by clearing this deplorable act from your balance sheet of exposure and risk.

I'll call you tomorrow, do the right thing!

Re: Your Submission to the FDIC - Reference Number 01416925

Dear Baris Dincer:

The FDIC's Consumer Response Unit has received your correspondence, and we are reviewing your concerns to determine the best approach to assist you. The information below will help explain how the FDIC plans to address your correspondence.

What happens now?

We will review your correspondence to determine whether the FDIC is the appropriate federal regulatory agency to respond to your inquiry or concerns. If you are writing about a bank that we regulate, we may contact the bank on your behalf.

In an effort to ensure the most complete response, we may ask the bank to respond directly to you and provide a copy to the FDIC. The FDIC will conduct an independent investigation into the matter, including a review of any and all supporting documentation provided by you and the bank. Upon completion, we will respond to you with applicable regulatory guidance. In this situation, you may expect to receive a response from the FDIC within 60 calendar days. We will attempt to notify you if we anticipate a longer review.

If the FDIC does not need to contact an FDIC-supervised bank for information to respond to your question or concern, you may expect to receive a response from the FDIC within 14 calendar days.

If we determine your concerns fall outside of the purview of the FDIC, we will forward your correspondence to the appropriate federal regulatory agency. In this situation, we will notify you within 14 calendar days that your concerns have been referred to another agency. If you also contacted a state regulatory banking department regarding this matter and the FDIC is later contacted by the state department to share this information, the FDIC may consider this request.

Some additional resources you may find helpful:

How to send in additional documents and receive responses from the FDIC:

The FDIC Information and Support Center allows the public to check on the status of a complaint or inquiry and securely exchange documents with the FDIC by creating a user account. Once you have created an account, log in to the public portal and navigate to your Case(s). Click on the case number to access a particular case and then click on the Files tab to download response documents from the FDIC or upload additional files. You can access the FDIC Information and Support Center by visiting <https://ask.fdic.gov/fdicinformationandsupportcenter>.

Questions about FDIC Deposit Insurance:

The FDIC insures deposits in most banks and savings associations located in the United States. The FDIC protects depositors against the loss of their deposits if an FDIC-insured bank or savings association fails. If your correspondence is about a deposit insurance question, you may expect to receive a response from the FDIC within 14 calendar days.

Other information you should know:

If you have additional questions or information concerning your complaint, you may contact the FDIC at the address provided or call us at 877-ASK-FDIC (877-275-3342).

Please be advised, in order to protect potentially sensitive consumer and account information, we will only be able to discuss the status of the complaint investigation and will not be able to discuss the specifics of your complaint. You can also search our Commonly Asked Questions for information that may be relevant to your situation by visiting <https://ask.fdic.gov/fdicinformationandsupportcenter>. Thank you for submitting your correspondence and we hope you find our assistance helpful.
